Ducati Streetfighter You and what army?

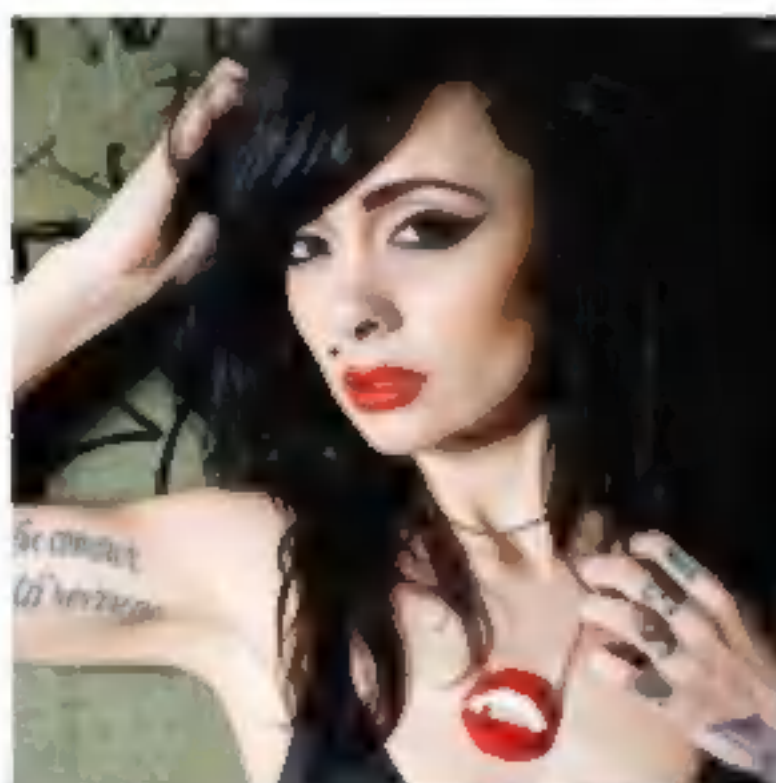

The Streetfighter blends a Superbike soul with naked sophistication to create a machine that runs on pure adrenalin. Full-on race technology, skeletal styling and smooth design take Ducati's big naked concept straight to the top of the fighter food chain. With a massive 155 HP compressed into just 368lbs, the Streetfighter packs a mighty punch. Soul of a Superbike, attitude of a fighter.

GREG TRUELOVE first began diving into the world of photography on trips to Japan a decade ago, and it was on the streets of Tokyo that he found a passion for capturing the world around us through the lens of a camera. Back home in his studio in Atlanta, Georgia he developed his skills for lighting and distinct style for shooting models. Trips to Los Angeles eventually led to him shooting for clients like Perfect 10, Liberator, and TapouT. When asked how shooting Inked Girls came about, Greg credits one model, Demanda Lavette. "I always wanted to shoot her, most of her photos were vintage or 50's pinup, but I wanted to see her in a more contemporary, sexier, glam style." At first, she didn't accept the offer, but eventually, after much persistence they ended up shooting, and the resulting photos led to much acclaim for both, and other tattooed models began lining up to work with Greg. Eventually, Greg landed a job shooting for Playboy, and it was at a casting at the Playboy mansion that he met another influential inked model in his career, Monica Renee. "Meeting Monica was great because she was a national model, and we both agreed to work together soon". Indeed they he did shoot her soon, which led to them both being in the premier issue of Inked Girls.

STEVE PRUE lives and works in Brooklyn. He likes taking pictures of girls, pretty clothes and things that go 'vroom'. He also believes that the world needs more rockstars. See them in their natural habitat at www.teamrockstarimages.com

KEN PENN is a Philadelphia based photographer who in the late 80's began photographing the emerging punk and hardcore bands in the Washington, D.C., and Richmond Virginia scenes. Penn is now deeply involved with the fashion and fine art areas of photography while still shooting musicians whenever possible. On his down time this 6 foot 4 inch, soft-spoken, tattooed, straight edge artist can be found making silly faces with his 6 month old daughter Sabina. www.kencredible.com

MARYA GARCIA is a self-taught photographer, born in Madrid (Spain), where she lives and works. For her, photography always has been one of her passions and nowadays she dedicates herself professionally to photography. She has done several exhibitions and although she is defined as a versatile photographer, has focused her training in fashion and advertising, mainly in thirties, forties and fifties. www.maryagarcia.com

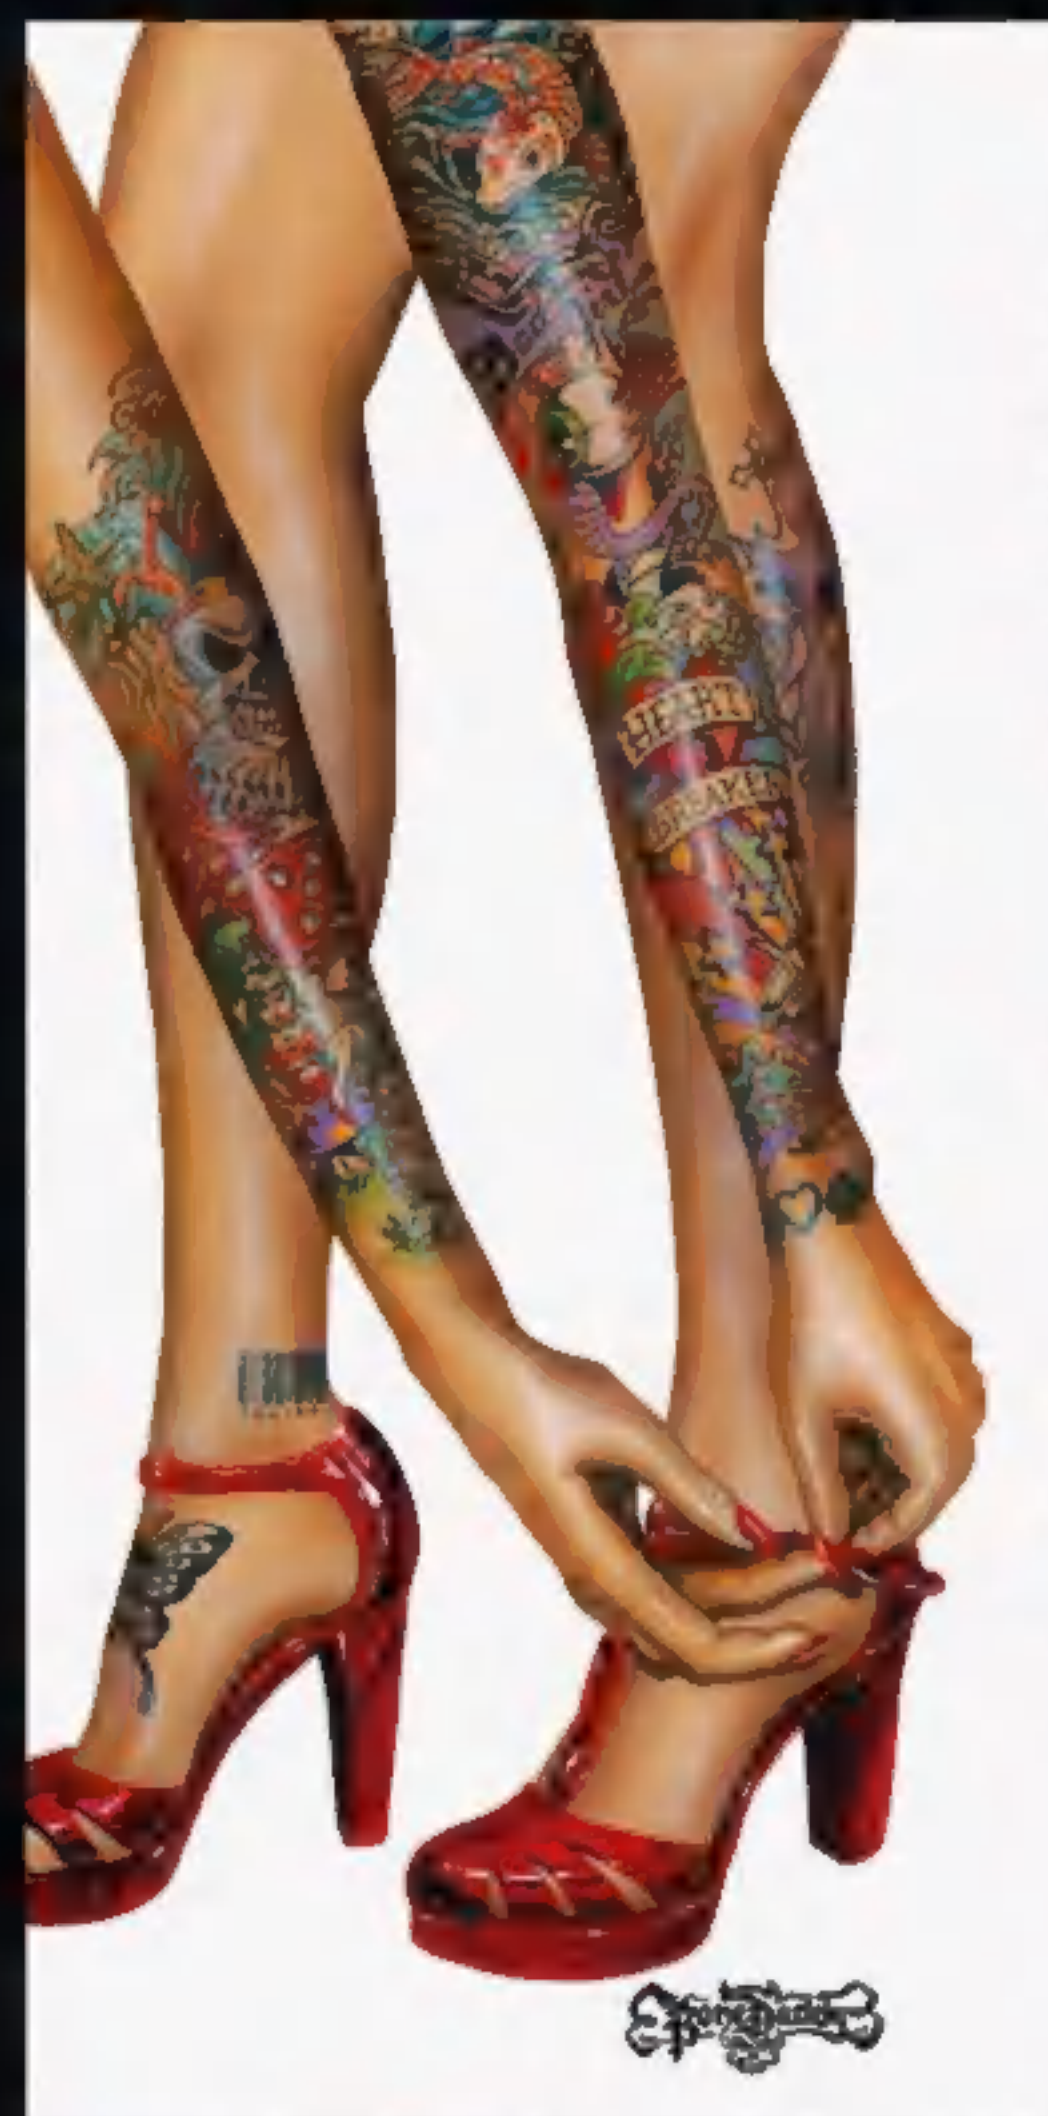

ANDREW URBAN A former pirate of crystal clear tropical waters, he now resides in the landlocked valley of the sun amidst mountains, mexican food, and mariachis. He is a connoisseur of fine meats, cheeses, and spices... and is available for the production of visually stimulating imagery for commercial applications. Check out the "life & work" blog to see what he's been up to. www.andrewurban.com

A little over six months ago Inked Girls was just an idea. It's hard for me to believe it has been that long because I've been working hard researching Inked Girls in Mexico while my co-workers have been freezing their asses off in what turned out to be a really brutal New York winter. The beaches of Playa del Carmen are filled with beautiful tattooed woman working on their tans and guys thinking about what to do with those beautiful women when they get off the beach. My co-workers think I have it easy, but dudes, I'm working my ass off down here. All this thinking gives me a headache... decisions, decisions, decisions. While I've had a handful of decisions to make each day, the crew up north has had to deal with many more. They have had to sift through hundreds of emails and thousands of images from models and photographers, hoping to bring you the very best of everything that has been submitted and I think they've achieved that goal.

Several of photographers, whose work appears in this issue, produced casting parties that many professional and amateur models and their friends have attended. We never know who the next contributing photographer will be, when or where the next party will be, or who is going to be in the next issue of Inked Girls. Watch our website for more info, go to the conventions in your area and maybe we'll get to say hello or even better get your picture on the cover Inked Girls. Time to go.

Mas Tequila, por favor!
